

Timeline

Exhibits	Date	Background Incidence
	6.2024	Kell McCarty disclosed a secret 'backoffice deal' with Lars and Michael Mumma for a substantial raise, where she was explicitly told not to inform me (Director of Marketing). The deal fell through; she confided in me, and I directed her to Michael where she made serious claims. Multiple instances where Lars instructed her to exclude me from major projects (e.g., large Columbia presentation, RRR window signs). This compensation/assignment process bypassed HR Director Cameron Aldridge entirely.
	7/19/2024	Harassment & Diversity Training at Southern First Bank conference room. I spoke directly with Lars about being deliberately sidelined from discussions with Kell McCarty regarding her substantial raise (secret 'backoffice deal'). Lars confirmed this was Michael Mumma's explicit decision to exclude me, the Director of Marketing, from compensation and project decisions involving my team. Admission of deliberate exclusion from supervisory duties and compensation decisions; direct evidence of undermining Marketing Director's authority; supports claims of hostile work environment, interference with job performance, retaliation for raising concerns, and pattern of favoritism bypassing chain of command/HR protocols.
	7/19/2024	Harassment & Diversity Training - In the training, there was no discussion of ageism. This was led by Cameron Aldridge. He had us fill out a survey and I wrote of my concerns of age discrimination at Contender and Blackstream. This was a joint meeting.
	9/24	Requested logo from Hayley that was not in Sharepoint. She refused to get it for me saying, "You don't need it." . I was working on something critical for Ford. I said, "I don't know what is going on with you, but if I ask you for something, I need it. Lately, you have refused to help me with anything (billboards, Crystal Lagoons pitch deck for branding). She later apologized but this became an increasingly difficult situation. Insubordination and Hostile Work Environment - refusal to provide basic work resources needed for Director-level projects; evidence of deliberate undermining of supervisory authority, hostile work environment through non-cooperation, and pattern of younger employee's resistance contributing to constructive discharge.
	10/24	Hayley states she no longer wants to work with agents. She is too "busy" or doesn't like them. Agents include Katrina Campbell, Joel Wolk, and Debra Minnick. Christine is aware. I take over meeting with these agents to intercede.
	11/24	I am increasingly having difficulty getting anything from Hayley. She refused to help me with Crystal Lagoons theming prep, I asked her to create a logo for The Summit and she did prepare one but when i asked for a different iteration, she refused. Escalating insubordination by Hayley: repeated refusals to provide Crystal Lagoons prep materials and Summit logo iterations despite direct requests from Marketing Director.
	12/5/2024	Background: Learned late that all brands would rebrand to Contender America. Previously observed Michael Mumma meeting secretly with Hayley Cape (closed-door), evasive about project details. Michael later admitted he and Hayley had developed Elliott Homes rebrand (major strategic initiative) without involving Marketing Director, then asked me to urgently write presentation. Created full collateral (strategies, press releases, bios, website content, announcements) despite weeks of exclusion. I got the presentation written and printed within hours. Then, I heard nothing again until a week or so later when I was told to begin preparations. Created full collateral (strategies, press releases, bios, website content, announcements) despite weeks of exclusion. Complete Contender rebrand planning also kept secret from me.
	1/8/2025	Attended the quarterly All Hands meeting which was last minute switched to the new office location. I spoke saying I felt there was a need for more public relations management and that I was certified in Crisis Communications. I said that now that the new office was open, I hoped to spend more time at Contender to meet those needs. I was invited to this meeting because I was considered a Contender employee. Hayley was also in this meeting as half her salary was paid by Contender.
	1/25	Hayley Cape began a romantic relationship with Christine Brodsky's son and disclosed it first to Christine's daughter Gabbi (remote employee) and then to Christine. I was present when Hayley told Christine. This relationship created a close personal connection between Hayley and the COO's family.
	1/27	Christine arranges meeting with Geiger to choose promo items (Marketing task). She makes all decisions although we had discussed that this was a marketing function. Removal of responsibilities.
	1/29	Colton Grace (Broadstreet PR) requests meeting. Checked with Ford. Met downtown to discuss future PR.
1	Elliott Homes Brand Book	Michael comes into my office and says he and Hayley have been working on a rebrand (without the Dir of Mktg?) but now they need my help to write a presentation. Exhibit is a copy of the Elliott Homes Brand Book that is being presented that same week.

Exhibits	Date	Background Incidence
	2/5/25	Christie's Conference in Asheville, NC. Observed CEO Michael Mumma's indiscretions with Annette Wren. Alex Weldon, Photographer, reported that parent-company CEO Ford Elliott knew about this in February 2025 (per his discussion with Mumma), confronted Michael, who denied it. Agent Katrina Campbell confirmed she called Ford to report seeing Michael and Annette together inappropriately at an earlier Christie's event. Around this time, many of my marketing/operations responsibilities began redirecting to Annette.
	2/9/25	(https://www.postandcourier.com/greenville/business/broad-street-global-management-greenville-fraud-lawsuit/article_e361d1c8-e585-11ef-8f95-ffaf05c10281.html#:~:text=Roughly%20$170%20million%20of%20that,stop%20them%20from%20further%20misconduct.) Post & Courier reports SEC SUES BROADSTREET GLOBAL MANGEMENT FOR $1B IN FRAUD. This is relevant because this plays into the Feb 18, 2025 incident. I sent Michael Mumma a copy of the article as part of my duties to track public relations and reputation management issues.
	2/6/2025	Ford requested brand mockups with the Ferrari Yellow color. Hayley refused to do them. She cause a major scene yelling that Ford didn't know what he wanted, that she knew better because she had an MBA, that he was "stupid". I sat her down in the office and said, "Hayley, it isn't fair to Michael to put him in the position of having to say no to Ford. Just mock up the rebrand as requested. If you decide you are not going to do this, you need to tell Michael right away. Do you want me to go tell Michael or are you going to tell him." She said she was going to tell him and went down to his office. I discussed this incidence with Ford and Peter when I went to Contender to tell them about my concerns.
	2/12/2025	Christine, Hayley, and I go to Hilton Head for a marketing meeting in Bluffton. Hayley is not required to attend or do any work. This is to help her "rest".
	2/12/25	Christine Brodsky tells me she was "told" to hire Annette Wrenn.
	2/14/25	I am called to Michael's office. He is distressed. He tells me that "we need to draw a line between the two companies' due to the investigation into Broadstreet Global. the primary investor of Contender America. My response was to develop a public relations crisis response that we could use, if necessary, at the upcoming Summit event at the Greenville Convention Center. This was a large event hosted by Blackstream to celebrate agent's accomplishments in 2024. We were concerned, that with local reporting of the Broadstreet investigation, that we might get questions or even a media. As I thought more about the potential problems, I realized that the one thing on the website that ties the companies together was my photo and bio on both sites as a shared employee. I returned to the office and found Tammy, Christine, and Michael in the corporate apartment having a meeting. I went in and told Michael, in front of Christine and Tammy, that I realized one problem was that we had employees showing up on both sites. I offered a solution that I could potentially go 1099 and still do work for both companies and that way the line is severed. Michael told me to write up a proposal. I gave this to Michael the next day. In the meantime, I was told by Michael to remove Hayley, Stuart from the Contender site and remove myself from the Blackstream site. I did not receive any response to that proposal until the meeting with Cam and Michael.
	2/14	Later that day, I returned to the office and found Michael Mumma, Christine Brodsky, and Tammy Strickland in the corporate apartment. I told them that I stopped back by because I realized that because I worked for both companies and was on both websites as "shared services" that I was a direct link between the two companies. I told Michael that I had a possible solution. Since I didn't need insurance, they could change me to a 1099 contractor and I could do marketing for both without being an employee of either company. I did not have a solution for Alex or Stuart. Michael told me to write something up and send it to him and in the meantime, remove Alex and Hayley from the Contender website and remove Stuart and i from the Blackstream website.
	2/14	Email from Christine Brodsky welcoming Annette Wrenn Annette Wrenn as Support & Operations Manager. At one point during Annette's first week, I went into Hayley's office to ask about a PowerPoint presentation I had been waiting on for The Summit. She told me she was busy "training" Annette and Rachel on social media. I didn't realize until today (Nov 12, 2025) while preparing this document, that she was training them to take over the social media portion of my job. During a later meeting, I received a copy of a weekly reporting form that showed Annette's responsibilities were to report on #Loops reviewed (listings contracts, closings), # and $ Contracts added to Projections, # and $ Closings (opposite agents given to Mimi for Thank You cards), # Corporate Apartment Reservations and $ of Corporate Apartment Invoiced, # and status of Onboarding agents.
	2/17	Teams Message to Hayley- When you get settled this morning, can we have a Team's meeting to discuss Ford's CV, social media for Master's Circle, and PowerPoint for The Summit. Only 10 days out... As soon as I get through Ford's stuff and MC, I am working on signage. No response.
	2/18	Summit Powerpoint Meeting to review Powerpoint. Hayley does not have it done.

Exhibits	Date	Background Incidence
	2/23	Asked Hayley repeatedly for the PowerPoint for the Summit. I put it into Clickup on 1/24/25. I sent the draft on 2/23/25. I again requested the file 1/24/25. She says she is busy with Annette and Rachel “training Social Media”. Later that week, I ask her as I see her leaving the office mid-afternoon. She said she is going to the hairdressers. She never shows me the finalized PowerPoint. Insubordination.
	2/25	Summit Team Meeting. Asked Hayley for PowerPoint. She heads out to get her hair done and says she will work on it.
2	2/26	The planned walkthrough at the Greenville Convention Center. Hayley arrives late. The PowerPoint is not downloaded or complete (SVN slides from previous PP were still in and this was not the version I gave her to work on. The awards (Hayley’s responsibility) were not set up (she leaves with Alex to go get them at Overbrook). The audio/visual portion of the program was a disaster. Hayley doesn’t even add in Anne Colton, VP of Christie’s presentation into the PowerPoint.
	3/5	Upon request, I was asked to meet with Topsy Taco to advise on marketing. I brought Hayley with me. At that meeting were two Topsy Taco representatives and Tammy Strickland and Carlos Salgado. Hayley jumped in offering to redo the Topsy Taco website. I told Carlos that I needed to check with Michael on whether we could commit to redoing the Topsy Taco website as we were struggling with bandwidth. Hayley has been telling Michael she is “too busy” to get to agent work and they are complaining. Michael told me that we cannot do work for Topsy due to managing agent requests and internal work.- no outside work.
	3/6	Christie’s Regional Meeting at Biltmore in Asheville, NC. Christine, Michael, and Annette arrive early. Mimi asks me at the cocktail hour why Annette is meeting with Michael and Christine. Annette and Michael are seen together in a compromising situation. I sit next to Michael at dinner the first night. He asks me if I had thought about returning to Austin to be with my children. I tell him that I love Greenville and that it is important for me to lead my own life. He follows that up with “Well, I would do anything for my kids.” I thought this sounded strange at the time and it sounded like he wanted me to leave.
	3/7	I submit full social media plan with 30 sample posts to Christine and graphics of how the branded posts (designed to follow the Christie’s branded social media postings) would appear. She approves.
3	3/11	March 11: Michael came into my office and said “You’re not in trouble but you need to meet with me and Cam this morning. Ford is not going to talk to you so you’re meeting with us. I went down to Michael’s office and there was a strong hostile vibe. Cam started saying that this was about the proposal to go 1099 that I had given Michael. He told me going 1099 was not an option and I needed to decide what I was going to do by Monday. It was during this discussion that I started opening up about what was going on with Hayley. Although I had mentioned issues both to Michael and Christine, I assumed they didn’t know how much this was impacting my work and productivity around the office. I told Michael and Cam that I could not do my job at Blackstream because I had no budget and Hayley didn’t report to me so she just refused almost everything I asked. I mentioned that she had systematically locked me out of many of the platforms. I had mentioned to Michael several other times that Hayley didn’t report to me and he looked confused and said “well she should”. At that time, the only person who reported to me was Alex. Then, I mentioned that he actually didn’t report to me either, because his paperwork said otherwise, and Christine was approving his time off request. I didn’t know this until he apologized that he had forgotten to tell me he was going on vacation. I said, “that’s fine but who approved it”. I also wondered why I never got an employee review form for him but thought maybe it was due to him being hourly. Hostile meeting. I was very confused as to why I was being given an ultimatum to let Michael and Cam know if I wanted to keep my job by Monday. On Thursday, March 13th, I received an email from Cam (see exhibit): Thank you again for your time this week and for discussing your role. We have come up with the following proposal for you. - We will fix the marketing department structure - Have Haley and Alex report directly to you - This will allow you to give tasks and monitor the projects they are working on - We would like for you to develop a marketing plan and procedures for marketing for Christie’s and Contender for approval - This will allow you to focus on the team, your growth, and what you would like to see with marketing - Reevaluate with Christine and Michael on what we can and can’t do for agents Michael and I also spoke about fixing some operational inefficiencies with Christie’s, which he is going to work on as well. I responded back to Cam with the marketing plan for Contender and then sent the one for Blackstream to Cam, Michael, and Christine. I never got any feedback or response.

Exhibits	Date	Background Incidence
	3/13	Email from Cameron Aldridge saying that they had come up with a proposal. They will fix the marketing department structure and Hayley and Alex will report directly to me so I can monitor their tasks and projects. He asked me to develop a marketing plan and procedures for marketing and that we will re-evaluate what we can and can't do for agents. In addition, Cameron said in the email that he and Michael had spoke about fixing some operational inefficiencies with Christie's. I responded back to Cam with the marketing plan for Contender and then sent one for Blackstream copying Cameron, Christine, and Michael. No response.
	3/13	Debra Minnick comes into my office directly from a meeting she had with Hayley. Hayley follows her in. She was requesting a few changes to the Landrum office marketing materials. Hayley says to me (in front of Debra) "No, I already told her we're not doing it." Hayley over rides my marketing decision.
4	3/14	Scheduled meeting with Hayley in Clickup to review workflow. She is in the office with Annette. I asked her if we could meet Friday, March 14th and she agreed.
5	3/17	Rescheduled meeting for Monday morning. Hayley does not show up. She is in with Annette in the next office. She says she "can't" as she is leaving to go get her taxes done and reschedules for later that afternoon.
	3/17	Later that afternoon, as Christine prepared to go out of town, I asked her if she had told Hayley she was now reporting to me. Christine acted surprised and said she knew nothing about it and she would talk to Michael.
	3/17	Hayley doesn't show up for the afternoon meeting. She is sitting in the next office with Annette. When I asked her if she was coming in she said, "no, I'm a mess" after meeting with the tax adviser and her soon to be ex-spouse. No show.
	3/17	Although Hayley refused, Annette Wren came in for social media training (per Michael Mumma) in advance of taking over my portion of the social media along with Hayley (and Rachel in Bluffton).
	3/17	I was instructed by Christine Brodsky to forgo a previously planned office visit in preparation for a grand opening event under my supervision. She does not give me any details and seems evasive when asked about my planning an event. Revoked Lake Office opening responsibilities.
	3/18	11:30am Hayley finally comes in and we begin discussing work flow. We discuss changes to Clickup. I had spent several hours adding columns to track basic marketing initiatives to control the workflow and also adding columns to track the new fees we were going to charge agents (per Christine). Those columns were all removed. She adds them back while sitting there in front of me. She brings up social media. I told her that I had submitted a plan for social media to Christine. I showed her copies of my plan and sample social posts based on Christie's branded SM post templates. Hayley said she wasn't going to do use the social media calendar, that she didn't have to and that she had discussed this with Michael. She followed that with "I don't report to you." I told her that Christine had approved the strategy and that we were going with it. She again, in a loud voice (screaming at me) and repeated several times, "I don't report to you and I'm not going to do it." And I replied, "Well you might. And if you did, whether it is me, or some other marketing director, can you see where refusing to do work might be a problem?" I said this in a very slow, soft voice. Hayley jumped up and ran out of the office saying "I just can't do this." She went crying next door to Annette and they went to the corporate apartment.
EXHIB	3/18	I reported this incident to Cameron Aldridge. It was at that time I learned that the hostility I felt in Michael's office was due to what was perceived to be "a money grab". I told Cam that Michael told me to submit the proposal. I also reported to Cam that I became concerned when Hayley started acting out and said during our meeting, "well, I haven't off'ed myself yet". Hayley was brining a gun to work (she showed it to me in her office in her bag and said that Michael was aware of this). I hadn't said anything about it previously because, she did not report to me and I had no reason at the time to be concerned for anyone's safety. When I asked later if this had been resolved, Cam sent me a screenshot of where he had notified Michael Mumma and not gotten a response. When I asked him directly in his office, he said that Michael told him he was going to take care of it. Weapon Report

Exhibits	Date	Background Incidence
	3/19	Christine calls a mandatory meeting with Michael, Hayley, Christine (remote) and I. I requested that Cameron Aldridge, Hr Director attend this meeting. He was not sent an invite but said he would come if I wanted him there. I texted him that I thought he needed to be there (see exhibit text). Cameron did not show up at the meeting. In the meeting, I told Michael of my increasing concerns in not having the authority to direct marketing and in particular make the kinds of marketing decisions I should be able to make in my position such as media buys, promotional buys, etc. Michael says (in front of all present and Christine remote from Hilton Head) that he agrees with Hayley (I don't know that he has even seen my social media strategy and branding samples). Michael states that Hayley and Annette will handle all social media. He also states that neither Hayley or Alex will report to me. It was at this meeting (Cameron was not present although I have a text message asking him to attend." Although Michael insisted there was a marketing budget, I had not been authorized to make any purchases on behalf of Blackstream or Contender (other than minor event items). Michael says he agrees with Hayley on social media. I questioned him as to why when I was the only other person in the office early one morning (recently), I hear Michael, Annette, and Hayley discussing social media strategy outside my office in the hallway. Suddenly, the three of them go into an office and close the door. I asked him directly and he said "well, Annette wanted to tell me something in private." I text Cameron that the meeting is over. When I ask him why he didn't come, he told me it was because his name was not on the invitation. Official removal of most all responsibilities. HR Director says he will attend mandatory meeting and does not. Workplace conspiracy. Constructive termination.
	3/19	It was at this meeting that I said, "If I don't have a budget, if I don't have any resources, if I don't have any authority, than you don't need a marketing director because I can't help you. I can't do my job." This was later referred to by Cameron as my telling them they didn't need a marketing director. I immediately responded with the entire statement in context.
	3/25	Reviewing Clickup (per Michael and Christine) to see agents are complaining that their requests are not getting done. Hayley was telling agents that she was "swamped". Charts indicated only 20% of work was agent related. I went into Hayley's office and asked how I could help. She replied "I'll let you know if I need help. I'm fine." Hayley would not give me any agent projects other than those with agents she had decided she didn't want to work with. I expressed concern to Christine Brodsky that Hayley was doing a lot of work for Biltmore Walk and other agent projects (many of these on the side as well as Michael's projects for his own company, Mumma Property Partners).
	3/30	Lisa Meinte Onboarding Meeting. Lisa had her photo taken just prior to our meeting. She mentioned she didn't like the photo and asked if she could use her personal one. Hayley had said no. I offered to have Alex reshoot. I went down to Hayley's office (temp) and asked if Alex was around to do a reshoot. Hayley said no she would not allow it. I went back to where Lisa was sitting and see Hayley head down to Christines office. Insubordination. Hostile work environment.
Email	4/1/2025	Christine announces by email (while I am on vacation) to agents that she has purchased tickets to Greenville Drive (with Marketing $$ without any input from me. Removal of responsibilities.
	4/14	I received an invite from Contender to go to the new office on Monday morning. As I had mentioned in the All Hands meeting, I wanted to have more of a presence at Contender. I set up a desk in one of the cubicles. Later that morning, I returned to Blackstream. I began working on the three tasks Christine directed me to do: start mocking up collateral for the Charleston and Columbia offices, look into Food trucks for an event although no date was provided, and start tracking social media to ensure that posts were being done. Intent to work at Contender
	4/14	As I continued to monitor ClickUp projects, I noticed that almost all projects (even ones I had entered or worked on) were now listed in Hayley Cape's name (including Guided Luxury Magazine. Several co-workers report that Hayley has told them that I don't do anything and that she does all he work. I am actively working on projects that are now listed under her name.
	4/14	Hayley changes Clickup project Nash Website to "in progress". I was told not to bother working on this yet (during a meeting with Michael on March 19th). Obviously the website is in development and I have now been excluded from all planning content, etc. for this new company (although I had been working on this during the prior weeks). Cameron mentions that there is going to be a huge marketing push as Nash comes online. I have not been included in any discussions on this.
	4/14/2025	Cam tells me to ask Hayley to report on all Social Media (per Christine's request of me to monitor it).

Exhibits	Date	Background Incidence
See Notes	4/15/2025	Christine mentioned going over the Q2 Q3 marketing plan. I asked if we could do as soon as possible preferably first thing the next morning. She suggested 9am. Christine seemed a bit reluctant and we didn't get started until 9:30am and she said she had another meeting at 11am. We started going through the plan. On each item, I was asking about what she would like to see happen. - I asked about a projected date for return to the office and opening the co-working space to agents. I said I needed to start planning an event and that I had approached Daniel at Guided Luxury to pay for the event. I suggested a cocktail hour gathering in the new space. Christine asked me to research food trucks and do a scavenger hunt in the office. We had spoken about this before, and I said I really felt we need to get agents back up in the new co-working space and engaged with staff and other agents. I didn't feel that being in the parking lot was on brand with Christie's and it was also weather dependent. She disagreed and said she didn't want food in the space. She kept asking me if I understood and agreed. I finally said, "I will do this any way you want, just let me know and I will make it happen." Christine told me to plan a "back to the office" event but did not give me a date. Said she had decided to make it a Food Truck/Scavenger Hunt. - I also asked her if she had reviewed the newsletter because it needed to go out (to announce Joe's upcoming real estate class). She said she had not (and as of today, still has not). No response on approval of monthly newsletter. - I asked about Nash Homes status so that I could start creating content for PR and the website. She said it was a go but they didn't need anything from me. - I asked about the new offices (which she said she was meeting Michael that afternoon to do the naming). She told me to start creating collateral mockups. But, when she later came out of the meeting, I asked her the new name of the office she said not to worry about it because she didn't know. Withholding information and Removal of Responsibilities. - We came to the part on social media in the plan. I reminded her that I was told Hayley was doing all social media and asked if there was something she wanted me to do. She told me to start tracking if she was doing it, when posts were going out, etc. She told me her Adwerx ads were getting responses. I reminded her that with all the industry news on consolidation of brokerages etc. and market slowdown, there were many agents now searching to make a change so that we needed to keep that in mind in thinking about traffic on social media - that she needed to understand data in context. When I sent the request (x2) for tracking (after being asked to track social media) to Hayley and Christine, I received no response from any of the requests. Removal of responsibilities. Constructive termination.
EXHIB	4/15	Sent Hayley an email at 8:05am (copied Christine, Cameron) asking her to put together a weekly report of social media posts on all platforms that we measure and to please provide it to me by Thursday each week so that I could review and give it to Christine for her Friday meeting. No response.
	4/16	During my meeting with Cameron Aldridge, he told me that Michael Mumma had decided weeks ago to remove me from Blackstream.
EXHIB	4/16	I return from vacation to see that my office assignment was changed without notice or notification. (see photo). I arrived at my office (the entire office was under construction, but I had brought in a folding table and chair and was working in what was to be my new office. Christine and I had measured it and discussed the move from my current office next door to this one which was larger and had better lighting) to find that someone else's name was scribbled across the glass (see photo). When I asked about this, I was told two agents had been assigned my office.
	4/17	Scheduled Lake Office visit cancelled per Christine Brodsky, I was supposed to take the new Guided Luxury Magazine, meet with agents, find distribution locations around lake region.
	4/17	The social media report that was requested from Hayley (cc to Christine) was not sent to me as requested prior to my submitting my weekly report to Christine. I even waited until Saturday morning to file my report just in case it had been sent late on Friday. I have not received any response, report, or even acknowledgement from either Christine or Hayley. No Response.
	4/18	A Blackstream employee mentioned that they were hoping for a promotion. I said that it didn't seem like many people were getting promoted since I had been here. They said, well, it's working for Hayley because she is becoming the new Marketing Director. Received email from Cam scheduling meeting on April 21 st . And, Annette has a new title.
	4/18	Requested marketing materials (agent request from Lissa Lipsey who was leading the office opening) from Christine Brodsky. Lissa had offered to pick them up if I could get a box of materials together. Christine Brodsky told me I could not give them any marketing materials A few days later she says that she has taken care of the materials. Removal of responsibilities.
	4/20/2025	Approx date: see copy of email chain from Lissa Lipsey/Michael Mumma response stating I had not been included in the lake office meeting where Michael had promised Lissa Lipsey specific marketing support but never included me
	4/21/2025	Begin working at Contender America (found a cubicle to sit in) as I was told there was no room at 5 Century by Susan Roberts.

Exhibits	Date	Background Incidence
	4/21	Cancelled Meeting: Meeting with Ford Cancelled without notice. Meeting set by Cameron Aldridge, HR Director at 3pm to speak with Ford, Thomas Phillips, and Cameron at Contender office at 200 Smith Hines. HR Director did not come into the office prior to sending a text to Ford Elliott (copied me but not Thomas Phillips) that he had a flat tire. He offered to call in. Ford Elliott knew I was in the building as I had seen him a few hours earlier. Thomas Phillips was not notified. He asked the Admin at the front desk if I was here for the meeting and why Ford was leaving. He asked if I was now working at Contender. He seemed to not know what this meeting was about. The text between Ford and Cameron asked if we can reschedule for Thursday or Friday. Ford texted, "Yes that works for me". I didn't see this email until about 2:38pm. I went up to the front desk to inquire which office Ford was in so that I could set up a new time to meet. Ford had already left the building prior to 2:26pm when I was notified that the meeting had been cancelled. I wrote an email to Ford, Cameron, and Thomas: I am in the Contender office for the meeting scheduled for today at 3pm. My understanding is that you both have left the property. Is there a plan to reschedule this meeting? Please advise. Thanks!- Beth Thomas responded at 2:48pm saying: Yes, we will reschedule. Cancelled meeting - no notice.
	4/22	Tried to sign into Instagram - screenshot of lockout (account access denied)
	4/22	Tried to sign into Meta - screenshot of lockout (account access denied)
EXHIB	4/23	Meeting in Michael's office with Lissa Lipsey regarding Lake Office Grand Opening. Apparently, Michael had a meeting with Lissa prior to this (without including me) to discuss opening the office. She wrote an email addressing her concerns. Michael arranged a phone meeting to address these concerns. I was unaware of what he had promised her in their meeting.

Exhibits	Date	Background Incidence
	4/25	I met with Ford Elliott, CEO, Peter Reinert, CFO (a lawyer), and Cameron Aldridge (HR). During this meeting, I wanted to clear up some things that Cameron had brought to my attention: 1) “you don’t need a marketing director” taken out of context. During the mandatory meeting with Cameron and Michael Mumma, I said If I don’t have a budget, staff, or any authority, you don’t need a marketing director because I can’t do my job.” 2) Ford’s reaction to the “money grab” proposal - the proposal sent when asked by Michael Mumma to draw something up after the conversation where I was asked to create a line between the companies. 3) Comments were being made by Haley Cape that I wasn’t doing my job and didn’t know how to do my job. 4) My willingness to discuss possible solutions to move forward. Ford told me that I would be working over at Contender going forward. I told him that I was concerned about leaving Blackstream under these conditions and that my reputation was being ruined by what was being said about me. Peter Reinhert replied, “at your age, why do you care about reputation”. I told him that I this might be the last corporate job that I had and that I had worked decades to develop a stellar reputation and I might not have years left to overcome any adverse rumors that were flying around Blackstream. I did not go into the rumors other than to say that one of them was that there was a financial crisis (payroll would not be met after April) and that there were other rumors swirling. My abrupt departure without explanation to all the agents and vendors I had worked with would look like I had been part of the problem. At this time, although I had heard rumors about Annette, I didn’t know anything for sure and didn’t see any connection to my situation. After this meeting, I sent this email: Cam – Thank you for arranging and attending today’s meeting to discuss my role with Contender (all entities). I appreciate the time and consideration that you, Ford, and Peter dedicated to this conversation and the opportunity to present my concerns as well as the documents supporting those concerns. I want to express my gratitude for the positive feedback I received during the meeting. In particular, I appreciated Ford’s acknowledgment of the work I have done and the value I have brought to the company. His comments were meaningful to me. Hope you have a nice weekend. – Beth April 25, 2025 2:41pm - This is the email I received after the meeting from Cameron: Hey Beth Thank you for your email and for meeting with me, Ford, and Peter. I wanted to summarize what we discussed today and where we currently stand. We appreciate you bringing up your concerns regarding your working relationship with Haley, communication issues, and feeling underutilized in your role. It’s clear from our conversation that there is a concern about the working relationship between you and Haley. Both of you have impressive marketing skills, and we view this as an opportunity to advance the companies by assigning one marketing person to manage Blackstream Christie’s and another for Contender America. One point we discussed was that Contender’s marketing has not been prioritized; currently, only 10 hours per month are allocated from the marketing team, which is not acceptable given that Contender contributes to both your and Haley’s salaries for marketing. While you appreciated the offer, you expressed that you would prefer to transition to Contender only if you receive the title of Chief Marketing Officer. As Ford mentioned, we are unable to make that title change or grant additional salary increases at this time, but we would like you to be the Marketing Director for Contender America Inc. When I asked if you could continue in your current role, you indicated that you didn't think that would be possible. We’d like you to take this weekend to consider our offer, and next week we can sit down with Peter to discuss your final decision. We value you as a member of our team and believe there is significant growth potential for Contender America from a marketing standpoint, and we would love to have you be a part of that journey with us.

Exhibits	Date	Background Incidence
	4/25	Hi Cameron, Thank you for your summary of our recent meeting. I am writing to further clarify and formally document several important points regarding my role, reporting structure, and workplace experience, as these are critical to understanding my concerns and protecting my professional reputation. Role and Reporting Structure: Despite Contender paying 50% of my salary, I have never received a formal job description, performance review, or direct communication from Contender management, including Adam Plous, who is listed as my supervisor in iSolve. In nearly three years, I have not been provided with clear expectations or feedback regarding my performance from Contender. My daily responsibilities and office have always been based at Blackstream Christie's International's Overbrook office, and, prior to the sale, partially at SVN, although I have never been given an office there. During the January 2025 All Hands meeting at Contender, I specifically expressed my interest in being more present at the new office and proactively sought involvement in the Crystal Lagoons project, given my experience in marketing master-planned communities. Despite these efforts, no follow-up was provided. Work Allocation: Throughout my tenure, my understanding has been that the salary split was solely to support my compensation, not to dictate my work allocation or reporting relationships. Nearly all my time and effort have been dedicated to Blackstream, regardless of how my salary was funded. My job description and performance reviews have always been at Blackstream. On the occasions when Ford Elliott or others at Contender requested my involvement-for example, designing the Contender Flag logo or working on the Contender website-I responded promptly and completed the requested work. I have also created all content for the Contender website, written every Contender press release, and managed media relations and crisis communications planning for Contender. I wrote the People, Partners, and Projects article on Ford that was printed in a magazine. In addition, I have collaborated with Alex Dmyterko and Nicole on various projects, including graphics, website, and branding initiatives. I have consistently been proactive in offering my skills and support to Contender, Streams, Blackstream, SVN, and Nash Homes, and have actively sought out opportunities to contribute to these entities. Workplace Issues: My concerns extend beyond my working relationship with any one individual. I have experienced ongoing systemic issues at Blackstream, including lack of transparency, exclusion from necessary information, and the effective reassignment of my responsibilities to others without communication or explanation. Although I have repeatedly requested information on a marketing budget and the authority to determine advertising (part of my role), I was relieved of those duties and staff without discussion or feedback. I have also been excluded from many of the decisions and communications required to do my work effectively. This has resulted in repeated humiliation, dishonesty, and a negative impact on my ability to perform my job and maintain my professional reputation. Despite demonstrating that my skills, certifications, and experience fully qualified me for the position of Marketing Director at both entities, or Chief Marketing Officer at Contender, no formal job description or additional salary was discussed. When asked if I would continue at Blackstream, my answer was no under these current conditions. Attempts at Resolution: I have consistently sought clarification of my role, requested feedback, and expressed my willingness to take on additional responsibilities, but have not received adequate communication or support from either entity. I respectfully request that this correspondence be added to my personnel file as an accurate record of my concerns and the context of my employment. Thank you for your attention to these matters. Best regards, Beth
	4/28	Went to Blackstream to train Annette on Blackstream Real Estate Academy website management (previously my responsibility).
	4/28	Friday's email from Cam said that I was to meet with him on Monday to determine continued employment. Worked at Contender but Cam did not come in.
	4/29	Sent early morning email to Christine marked important and asking her to let me know about whether to proceed to Costco to purchase items for the ribbon cutting. No response. Delivered items to BIRE and gave Christine the receipt. Stopped by Peter E Reinert's office because I heard he was going on vacation. Peter wasn't aware that I was waiting on a meeting with him. He tried to call Cameron but got no answer. He told me he didn't know what I was talking about when I told him I had gone to BIRE to train Annette on BS Real Estate Academy website to load Joe's classes although this was supposed to be my responsibility.
EXHIB	4/29	1:47pm from Cameron Aldridge, cc: Peter, Ford - I would like to sit down with you tomorrow and discuss further.

Exhibits	Date	Background Incidence
	4/30	Meeting with Cameron Aldridge, HR Director after he sent email requesting a meeting. I showed Cameron the folder of samples of work I had done for Contender over the past almost 3 years. He wanted to know what I had done lately and I showed him the Q&A for Ford to speak on panel at the SE RE Expo as well as the 4 topics and descriptions laid out for the SE RE Expo website. I asked him if they can't make me a CMO or they won't make me a CMO. He said that as of right now they hadn't seen enough of my work and maybe down the road sometime, I might be made a CMO. I asked him, so this is not an issue of the current situation (I had not asked for more money but when he addressed this, I said I understood right now they could not but that I would expect to be paid on par with other C-suite employees when this situation was resolved. I said, "just so I understand this, you don't feel that with 28+ years experience, having worked for real estate developers and traveled with investors to launch new projects, having worked for 2 global branding agencies, as a licensed real estate salesperson (and former broker in charge), and having managed marketing for this company for almost 3 years that I am not qualified for this position?" He asked me why I was not willing (his words) to just have the title of "Marketing Director". I responded "because I am doing the job of a CMO right now." He said he would talk to Ford again to see how he wanted to proceed. No response. I told him that I was concerned there was not enough work to justify another marketing director (at least for the time being). I told him I had gone to Adam to ask for work and he didn't even know I was reporting to him and told me that with the current situation, there wasn't anything he needed my help with. Cam mentioned that Nash Homes would soon need a lot of marketing. I told him that I had already tried to work on this and was told that there was nothing for me to do. Michael Mumma also said this in the meeting where he relieved me of my marketing staff and told me not to work on social media. I continued to work on PR today for the lake office opening. I sent out the press releases after speaking to Annette who said Michael was in her office and said "it's good to go". I asked Cam if I should attend that event but did not receive an answer. I told Lissa Lipsey I would not be attending but I did follow up to make sure beverages were chilled and that the BIRE staff knew what to take in the morning. Removed responsibilities.
	5/7/2025	All Hands Meeting - I greet Hayley and sit down next to her. She won't speak to me and turns her back to me.
	5/9/2025	First meeting with Thomas Phillips, Chief Growth Officer and my new supervisor. Met at 5 Century Dr. We discussed my background and situation at Blackstream (briefly), expectations (none were really laid out. I asked him repeatedly if I would have a marketing budget and if there really was a job for me to do at Contender as I really hadn't seen much marketing activity (or budget) over the past couple of years. He assured me that there was a budget and that things were going to get very busy with plans that they had.
	5/12	Annette is using the title Director of Operations, Realtor on the website and her signature block. This is important to note because up until this point, her title was Support and Operations Manager, Realtor according her her signature block and the website. This is significant because it appears that Annette received a promotion (and probable pay raise) within the same pay period (same day) that I move to Contender America. This smacks of not only taking my responsibilities in social media, Blackstream Academy, and events and giving them to Annette but then promoting her. Annette Wrenn is the 30-something girlfriend of Michael Mumma. Transfer of responsibilities.
	5/23/2025	Begin sending Weekly Updates to Thomas Phillips, CGO (my supervisor). He tells me I don't need to send them. I tell him that because we are in different offices, I don't want anyone to ever ask him "what is she doing?" and him not know. We agreed that weeks where we meet, it may not be necessary. I try to still send them just to track my activity and remind him of what I am waiting on or need help with. Consistent, proactive reporting. Invitation to feedback. Rebuttal of "performance" narrative - actively working and tracking deliverables while responsibilities are beign stripped away.
	5/27/2025	Susan Roberts shows me the confidentiality/noncompete agreement that she refused to sign. She said that no one has asked her again since she first refused. Repeated requests to sign the employment agreement which has language that gives up my right to a jury trial and has a stiff non-compete. I have been repeated asked to sign the agreement. At one point, HR schedules a meeting with my supervisor, Thomas Phillips. HR Director doesn't show up to the meeting. I told Thomas Phillips that I would not sign until I had talked to Ford to discuss the issues I was experiencing at the company.
	5/29/2025	I was managing Contender's participation at The Expo at the Peace Auditorium. Ford Elliott was speaking. I was working alongside the photographer (holding one of his cameras), Alex Weldon to videotape Ford on stage. The camera battery went dead. I followed Alex out of the auditorium and down the stairs to go get an additional battery. At the top of the stairs, my heel caught in the carpeting and I pitched forward, went airborne, and landed on the bottom 3-4 steps. An ambulance was called but I refused not wanting to cause attention. Cameron Aldridge filed a worker's comp claim on site prior to me leaving the location. I was hurt but figured I could manage to get home. I later was sent to the Prisma Level 1 Trauma Center. The result of that injury was a broken ankle, abrasions to the knee, a bruised shin, a torn left knee meniscus, and collapsed breast implants. I remain under treatment for this injury. I took only one day off due to this injury and returned to work to avoid any speculation that my age in any way had something to do with this fall. It did not.

Exhibits	Date	Background Incidence
	5/30	Email Thomas Phillips that I had been working with Jennifer Liddy to plan the annual holiday party per Ford Elliott. From email: At the request of Jennifer, I focused on the Holiday Party by reviewing the contract and compiling financials to evaluate our options. I have attached the summary I sent to Ford, Josh, and Peter at Peter's recommendation. I found a couple of concerning issues: actual cost vs guarantee estimate. I spoke with the Director of Catering at Hartness and confirmed that these figures will exceed expected budget. And, I spoke with Maxine to make sure she was aware that the second deposit check was due in about 10 days (she was not). Upon further inquiry, we realized the first payment probably was never made. "I have not heard back from Ford but Cameron said he was given all info (from Ford) to move forward so I will leave it in his hands unless directed otherwise."
	6/4	Holiday Event at Hartness responsibilities moved to Cameron Aldridge, HR. Notification that I am to be on the committee with Jennifer Liddy, Annette Wrenn, Julia-Reagan Clark led by Cameron Aldridge.
	6/5	I stopped by Cameron Aldridge's office to discuss issues with trying to get full access to the Contender website. Susan Roberts informed me that she would not turn the website over to me but she would give it to Stuart. I told her I wanted it in marketing@ContenderAmerica.com not in my name. No cooperation. Hostile work environment.
	6/9	Meeting Cancelled. Ford cancelled meeting last minute. No notification.
Exhibit	6/25/2025	Copy of email from Annette Wrenn showing her new title of Director of Operations, Realtor. Her title is changed (more money) after I move over to Contender. Conspiracy to free up my salary to pay Annette more money. Sexual favoritism and nepotistic promotions tied to the CEO's romantic relationship, creating a hostile work environment and non-merit-based advancement for younger female employees.
	6/12	Meeting Cancelled. Ford cancelled meeting at the last minute. No notification.
	7.25	Email Annette re: Holiday Gala info on invitation Evites No response.
	8/1/2025	Email to Thomas Phillips noting that Ford has asked me to plan our next All Hands meeting. I create several options but get no response from Ford. Email from Sarah Diggins at Main Event showing they are holding a date for our meeting. 8/25 Email from Cameron confirms Ford has asked him to take over this event.
	7.31	Emailed Michael Mumma re: Holiday Save the Dates for BIRE. He thanks me and says he will get them out one way or another. (Annette is on vacation)
	7/31	Meeting Cancelled. Ford cancelled meeting at the last minute. No notification. I have emailed or sent deliverables by text and do not get any approvals. These include: Social media posts, Brand Playbook, Binder with updated pages, Social Media Strategy Plan, Social Media sample posts, Company Overview, Pitch Deck, Contender Business Profile, Contender Monthly Newsletter (sample), Seo Implementation Plan, Website Revision Plan, Clemson Sponsorship Proposal, requests for project info (per Adam, Ford has to approve what goes on website). I send these thru Thomas or at times, directly to Ford in a text (his preferred form of communication). No response or approval. This is ongoing since the end of 2024.
	8/4	Meeting Cancelled. Ford cancelled meeting at the last minute. No notification
	8/7	Ford indicated that he wanted to the Contender America website to look like another agency out of Florida and to begin reviewing website developers. I had struggled to get access to the Contender America website. It was under the control of Susan Roberts, a land developer who had worked with Haley (and me) to develop the original site. I had provided some content, but Haley had worked directly with Susan to update the site from time to time. She had also moved the site to WIX. During my transition from Blackstream to Contender (my salary had always had 50% allocated to Contender but I had never been allowed to do much for them as Susan always controlled the website). I told both Peter Reinert, CFO and Ford Elliott, CEO during discussions of my moving over to Contender that I didn't know WIX but would learn it. I did that. I began submitting changes that needed to be made to Thomas for approval. I did not hear back on any approvals to make changes (other than to add or remove staff or to add a social post or news to the site when told to do so.). I went through channels (Christine, Cameron in HR) to get access. Haley was non-responsive. There are limited seats for admins on the site. Susan put Stuart Ownes, IT director on the site but would not add me. I did get marketing@contenderdevelopment listed as an admin. I have an email from Susan saying she would turn it over to Stuart but not to me. When I learned from Ford that we would be updating the website, I did two things: I set up meetings with website companies and I began changing the Contender America website to resemble (in content) the website he wanted to mimic. I changed content (content I had previously written but was either out of date or insufficient or lacking keywords). In all I added 9 pages to the site. I showed this to Thomas but did not receive any feedback. The website proposals came in at $25k-$40k+. When I asked how I should proceed, I was not given any information other than "we are on hold". Hostile work environment.
	8/15	Develop Contender America Newsletter (concept and draft layout) and sent to Thomas Phillips to get approval from Ford. No response. I had developed monthly agent newsletters at BIRE for over a year.

Exhibits	Date	Background Incidence
	8/18	I arrived a few minutes early to meet with Thomas Philips. I stopped in to see Susan Roberts. She seemed upset. I asked her if everything was alright. She wouldn't look at me. I mentioned something about the social media. She said, "I just want to work with Hayley". I replied, "I know, but Hayley only works for Blackstream now." She got very upset and jumped up and yelled, "I might as well quit my job!" She proceeded to go into Thomas Phillips office and scream at him. I went out to the conference room. Susan stormed out and left saying, "I bet I just made your day!" as she left Thomas' office. I waited a few minutes and stuck my head in and said we could reschedule. He came out but was obviously frazzled.
	8/19	Email Hayley asking her to do a business card for new President of Infrastructure as requested by Ford. No response. Christine emails me back saying Hayley is too busy. Sends me blank templates to use on a platform I don't have access to. I have to get Thomas Phillips to intercede. He says he will call Michael Mumma. Then, he comes back with another template so obviously Michael must have said no.
	8/25/2025	Email from Christine Brodsky announcing Annette Wrenn's departure from Blackstream as an employee Email from COO Christine Brodsky announcing that Annette Wrenn is no longer an employee of the company. Multiple employees and agents report that Annette received more than one year of salary as part of her separation. Annette is the same individual involved in an alleged affair with CEO Michael Mumma, about which he had previously denied concerns to parent-company CEO Ford Elliott, and for which he was later reprimanded after agents reported seeing them together in inappropriate situations. Christine's email: Good afternoon, and happy Monday! We wanted to inform you that Annette Wrenn is no longer an employee. Her enthusiasm and positive attitude will be greatly missed by the team. We wish her all the best as she moves into the next exciting chapter of her career. Going forward, please direct all sign and corporate...Sexual favoritism/paramour preference and hush-money-style severance; evidence that a favored, younger paramour received a generous exit package while an older director was marginalized and pushed out; supports theories of age discrimination, retaliation, and civil conspiracy to protect leadership and conceal misconduct.
Email	8/29	Christine sends email denying access to my blackstream email account. 9/3 I respond explaining that while I was at Blackstream, I had multiple emails for Contender, SVN, etc. and I mostly used my Blackstream email (default) for all business communications. Cam/Christine offer to pull my contacts but refuse to give me access to email. Hostile work environment.
	9/17	All Hands Meeting Event at Main Event.
	9/23	Cameron request for signature of Employee Handbook
	9/25	Cameron request for signature of Employee Handbook
	9/30	Cameron request for signature of Employee Handbook (names called out in email)
	10/17	Deadline was set for the return of Employee Self-Reviews prior to one on one meetings that determine salary increases, promotions, etc. I asked Cam about this x2 and he said they had to come from your supervisor. I emailed Thomas asking about this and he sent over the form. I stayed late on Friday to complete the self-review. I have not heard any feedback or had a meeting scheduled regarding the review as of Nov 23, 2025. No response.
	11/14	Mtg with Thomas Phillips at Fork and Plough. Presented packet with Preservation Letter, Timeline, Ltr to Thomas, etc.
	11/17	Maxine Turner, CAO brought me in her office and told me she had told Peter Reinert that she did not understand why I was removed from leading the upcoming holiday event. She said that Ford was asking questions about the cost of the event. Cameron didn't seem to have the information, know the budget, etc. She warned me that he was probably going to come to me to get the information - even though he should be running this. On May 27th, I had sent Ford and Josh Howard an email advising them on the status of the contract and that we had options to cancel, as we had not paid anything other than a small deposit. I told them my experience is that the estimate of $28k was way too low (we spent $24k the year prior at a much cheaper venue). I told them that I estimated the event would cost $54k. It was right after that that Cameron told me he had been told to lead the event by Ford. Other members were Jennifer Liddy, Jullia-Reagan Clark (terminated) and Annette Wrenn (terminated). I met with Jennifer at Mercado Coffee (Cameron didn't show up so we finally called him) to review Evites and plans. Removal of responsibilities.
	11/17	The office administrator told me that she had been asked for the key to the shredder bin (highly unusual). The next morning the key was replaced in her drawer. I believe documents were removed.
	11/17	11:10am - Office administrator handed me a sheet of paper with my signature on it. It was the last page of the presentation letter sent as part of the package I gave to Thomas Philips on Nov 14th. I asked her where she got it. She said that she found it on the printer and assumed it was mine when she saw my signature. This last page includes VII and VIII and confirmation. I did not know who left it on the printer. I was very upset. I did let Michael Pitts know a couple of days later when he asked me if I had put a courtesy copy of the packet on his desk. I said, no, it was not me.
	11/18	Michael Pitts sent a confirmation of receipt of the packet. At that time, I responded that the pages were left out. He said it was a mistake and for me to "shred it".

Exhibits	Date	Background Incidence
	11/20	Deborah Hawkins, office administrator reported that she started getting notifications that someone was trying to get into the Apple phone she has. She called Stuart Owen, IT Administrator and he said he was trying to do something with Apple. She said he sounded strange and she did not give him access. Questionable use of authority to monitor communications.
	11/21	Cameron Aldridge, HR Director called me to his office and asked me several questions about the conversation between Adam and Connor. Then asked about the meeting where Peter said, "At your age, why do you care about your reputation." I was very intimidated as I didn't know why he was asking and wasn't sure which meeting he was referring to (there have been multiple meetings at Blackstream and then at Contender). At first he said he was in the meeting and didn't remember Peter saying anything to me. Ford Elliott was also present. Then he said he did remember a discussion about my concern about my reputation. I asked him when I would hear back and he said Michael Pitts was going to speak with me that afternoon. Michael Pitts left the building and did not connect with me.
	11/23	I went into my computer to look at the file of emails from my Blackstream account. When I worked for Blackstream, SVN, and Contender, I often just used the Blackstream email for all companies as otherwise there were 3-4 emails to check for messages. When Stuart replaced my computer, I lost access to the emails (see notes above). He got me access to the downloaded .pst files back until mid-2024. I requested all emails. Those files have now disappeared from my computer.
	11/24	Allison Tucker, President of Infrastructure was in her office (door open) and I heard her talking to Crain Yount about something she had tried to email last week. He was asking her to send it. She commented that it was strange that she couldn't find the document anywhere. She said that she felt someone had been on her computer. I spoke up and said I was missing some files on my computer, also. My list of Blackstream emails (a .pst file) was no longer anywhere on my computer.
EXHIB	11/24	I worked to set up and decorate for the Thanksgiving Luncheon all morning and then hosted the event along with Deborah Hawkins. Many of the Blackstream staff and agents were in attendance. After the luncheon and after I had worked cleaning up after the event (about 2:50pm) Cameron Aldridge asked me to come to his office. He handed me a letter and said to come talk to him if I had any questions. The letter was presented by Cameron as their response to my demand letter.
	11/26/2025	Meeting with Lissa Lipsey at my house. Lissa tells me that she was in Christine's office and Michael came in and slid her a note and said, "It's done." Lissa offered to go out of the office. They said no and told her I was leaving to go to Contender. She told me that she said, "oh, that's a shame! She has done so much here." According to Lissa she was told, "no, Hayley has been doing all the work." Defamation. Professional sabotage. Workplace conspiracy.
	11/26/2025	Lissa confirms that Michael Mumma began an affair with Annette Wrenn in the Fall of 2024 (about the same time I started having issues with Blackstream). She has discussed this with Michael in long phone conversations where Michael was trying to convince she (and other agents) to remain at Blackstream.
	11/26/2025	Lissa also recounts that the launch party at The Sheppard (an event that was taken away from me) was to be sponsored by Guided Luxury Magazine. I had worked with Guided Luxury getting them to agree to $2,500 sponsorship of the launch as they did for the party in Hilton Head). Lissa went to Christine to find out how much money she could spend for this event. Christine said maybe $1k in addition to the GL sponsorship. Lissa worked with The Shepard to plan the event. The day before, she called the hotel to confirm arrangements. They said all Blackstream had paid them for was a cocktail hour with beverages for about $2,500. Lissa was so upset that there was no food that she directed them to add canapes and she would pay out of pocket for the food. A few weeks later, Daniel Burke of Guided Luxury Magazine asked Lissa about the event saying, "it must have been quite a party for $8k". She played along with this. She went back to the hotel and got a copy of the invoice. Lissa said that she presented this information to Michael and said, "this is fraud" and told him if he didn't do something about it she was going to Ford. He said he would take care of it. She has not heard back from him. Shows deceptive practices/dishonesty.

Exhibits	Legal Framing
	Secretive, off-the-books compensation scheme bypassing HR protocols; exclusion of Marketing Director (direct supervisor of Kell McCarty) from major projects and decisions; evidence of management circumventing HR oversight, favoritism toward select employees, undermining of supervisory authority, and creation of hostile work environment through deliberate isolation.
	Direct admission: Lars's statement is key evidence from a manager confirming intentional exclusion, not mere oversight. Undermining authority: Shows leadership actively circumvented your role, critical for constructive discharge and age discrimination pretext. Pattern anchor: Links to Kell's secret deal (prior entry), establishing early exclusion as deliberate strategy rather than isolated incident. Protected activity context: Occurred during harassment/diversity training where you raised age concerns, strengthening retaliation narrative.
	Protected activity; internal complaint of age discrimination; basis for retaliation claim.
	Insubordination: Direct refusal to follow reasonable supervisor directive on essential task. Pattern evidence: Explicitly references prior refusals, showing escalation not isolated incident. Management failure: Implicitly raises question of why HR/management didn't enforce chain of command when you raised issue. Age dynamic: Younger subordinate openly defying older Director supports disparate treatment narrative when combined with favoritism toward Hayley elsewhere.
	Hostile work environment. Insubordination.
	Deliberate exclusion from major strategic rebranding decisions; secret collaboration between CEO and favored subordinate bypassing Marketing Director; evidence of undermining supervisory authority, favoritism, and pretext for later marginalization/constructive discharge.
	Younger Worker Favoritism: Workplace romance creating potential conflicts of interest and favoritism; disclosure to COO indicates awareness at senior level; supports findings of paramour preference and civil conspiracy to favor Hayley, contributing to undermining and exclusion of older Marketing Director.
1

Exhibits	Legal Framing
	Sexual favoritism: a) Mumma’s personal relationships drove job assignments, not qualifications b) Temporal Link: Affair timeline is tied to my lost responsibilities c) Corroboration: multiple witnesses (Alex, Katrina, Ford’s confrontation) make this credible hearsay or direct evidence. d) Pattern: younger favored employees (Hayley, Annette) gaining while I am sidelined
	Good-faith report of serious external fraud allegations impacting employer; whistleblower-type protective activity.
	Insubordination.
	First-hand admission that Annette’s hire was mandated from above; supports civil conspiracy/favoritism theory and shows a top-down plan to shift responsibilities from an older director to a younger, favored employee.
	Good-faith report of serious external fraud allegations impacting employer; whistleblower-type protective activity.
	Sexual favoritism and nepotistic promotion benefiting a paramour; evidence of non-merit-based advancement and discriminatory allocation of opportunities. Civil Conspiracy: removal of responsibilities of Marketing Director to someone not even in the marketing department.

Exhibits	Legal Framing
2
	Age-related remark implying retirement or leaving due to age and family status; circumstantial evidence of age-based animus and desire to push older employee out (supports ADEA age discrimination and constructive discharge theories)
3	Protected Activity. Protected activity by reporting interference with duties and possible discrimination; precipitating event for retaliatory restructuring and removal of staff/resources.

Exhibits	Legal Framing
	Insubordination toward a supervisor; undermining of authority; contribution to hostile work environment and sabotage of job performance.
4	No show. Insubordination.
5	No show. Insubordination.
	No show. Insubordination.
	Adverse employment actions in the form of systematic removal of core job duties and supervisory authority; evidence of constructive discharge
	Open refusal to follow directives; hostile work environment; insubordination toward a supervisor; undermining of authority; contribution to hostile work environment and sabotage of job performance.
EXHIB	Weapon Report. Protected Activity. Protected safety complaint; whistleblower-type activity; subsequent lack of remedial action supporting retaliation and negligent retention/supervision theories.

Exhibits	Legal Framing
	Civil Conspiracy. Whistleblower retaliation. Adverse employment actions. Coordinated actions by management and HR to remove authority and reassign functions to favored younger employees; supports civil conspiracy and retaliation theories.
Email
	Exclusion from strategic projects; evidence of pretext and directionless role designed to force resignation (constructive discharge).

Exhibits	Legal Framing
See Notes	Exclusion from strategic projects; evidence of pretext and directionless role designed to force resignation (constructive discharge)
EXHIB	Hostile work environment. Insubordination toward a supervisor; undermining of authority; contribution to hostile work environment and sabotage of job performance.
	Civil Conspiracy. Evidence of pre-planned adverse employment action; supports constructive discharge and retaliation theories. Evidence of pre-planned adverse employment action; supports constructive discharge and retaliation theories.
EXHIB	Tangible change in working conditions; humiliating reassignment; constructive discharge evidence.
	Adverse employment action; removal of supervisory and managerial responsibilities; undermining professional standing with agents.
	Hostile work environment. Insubordination toward a supervisor; undermining of authority; contribution to hostile work environment and sabotage of job performance.
	Replacement by substantially younger comparators; age discrimination inference; adverse employment action through demotion-by-reassignment.
	Adverse employment action; removal of supervisory and managerial responsibilities; undermining professional standing with agents

Exhibits	Legal Framing
	Evidence of hostile work environment and retaliation: repeated refusal by CEO to meet to clarify role and address discrimination/hostility complaints; contributes to constructive discharge and shows bad-faith management/pretext. Retaliation.
EXHIB	Adverse employment action in the form of removal of supervisory and managerial responsibilities tied to Lake Office opening.

Exhibits	Legal Framing
	Age-based stereotyping; discriminatory comment tied to employment status; evidence of ageist motive and pretext for adverse employment actions. Further protected activity; written internal complaint preserving record of discrimination, retaliation, and constructive discharge concerns. Direct evidence of age-based animus; age-related discriminatory remark by a decision-maker; evidence supporting ADEA age discrimination claim and hostile work environment.

Exhibits	Legal Framing
	Ongoing ostracism and interpersonal hostility contributing to hostile work environment.
	Adverse employment action in the form of removal of supervisory and managerial responsibilities
	Evidence of diligence and transparency: regular written updates to Thomas Phillips summarizing marketing work, proposals, and pending approvals, showing I actively sought to add value and keep leadership informed.
	Targeted, coercive effort to force an older employee to sign an agreement waiving legal rights, while others were not held to the same requirement; evidence of discriminatory and retaliatory intent and constructive discharge.
	Work-related injury (workers' compensation claim filed); context for later attempts to characterize you as frail/older, but contemporaneous evidence that performance and attendance continued.

Exhibits	Legal Framing
	Adverse actions / Constructive Discharge: Further stripping of high-visibility responsibilities; pattern of marginalization consistent with constructive discharge.
	Adverse actions / Constructive Discharge: Further stripping of high-visibility responsibilities; pattern of marginalization consistent with constructive discharge.
	Hostile work environment. Insubordination toward a supervisor; undermining of authority; contribution to hostile work environment and sabotage of job performance.
Exhibit	Sexual favoritism/paramour preference; adverse employment action via transfer of director-level responsibilities to (non-merot based) younger favored employee.
	Systematic failure by leadership to review or respond to Director's marketing deliverables (quiet firing / constructive discharge; evidence of retaliation and pretext). Constructive Discharge Quiet Firing.

Exhibits	Legal Framing
	Hostile work environment; interference with ability to perform assigned marketing functions; evidence of favoritism toward younger employees
	Hostile work environment; interference with ability to perform assigned marketing functions; evidence of favoritism toward younger employees
	Sexual favoritism and conflict of interest: a subordinate with a personal relationship to the CEO of Blackstream allegedly receives extraordinary financial treatment, while I lose responsibilities and is pushed toward the door. Pretext and disparate treatment: leadership is willing to pay to quietly resolve a favored insider's situation but not to protect or restore the position of an older director whose duties were stripped and whose authority was undermined. Civil Conspiracy / Cover-up Narrative: the combination of a) Mumma's lie to Ford B) agent reports c) Mumma's reprimand from Ford d) large severance to Annette shows coordinated efforts to contain the fallout from leadership's misconduct while sacrificing my role. Hostile work environment and constructive discharge: as my work is transferred to Annette and then she is quietly paid out, it supports the story that leadership chose to protect Michael Mumma, CEO of Blackstream and his paramour rather than address my age and retaliation concerns or restore me to my proper role.
Email
	Formal pre-litigation complaint; protected activity; temporal proximity to further adverse and retaliatory actions.
	Suspected spoliation/alteration of evidence; potential obstruction of internal investigation or retaliation claim.

Exhibits	Legal Framing
	Potential unlawful monitoring and destruction of relevant records; supports spoliation and retaliation narrative.
	Potential unlawful monitoring and destruction of relevant records; supports spoliation and retaliation narrative.
	Potential unlawful monitoring and destruction of relevant records; supports spoliation and retaliation narrative.
EXHIB

Exhibits
1

Exhibits

Exhibits
2
3

Exhibits
4
5
EXHIB

Exhibits
Email

Exhibits
See Notes
EXHIB
EXHIB

Exhibits
EXHIB

Exhibits
Exhibit

Exhibits
Email

Exhibits
EXHIB	